Hello 2017!

Well, it is hard to believe that 2017 is already upon us. December was filled with lots of holiday fun and much learning about the different holidays. We talked about Christmas and Hanukkah. This time of year gives us lots of opportunities to talk about how we are alike, yet different. It also gives us opportunities to celebrate those differences by sharing our holidays. January will bring more excitement. We will begin our journey into 2017 with brand new themes. You will be amazed at the wonderful things the children will be learning this month.

Reminder:

It has been brought to our attention that some of our customers are parking in our disabled parking spot without the appropriate permit. It may be tempting to use the disabled parking spot without a placard, thinking no one here would use it. However, we do have customers who count on this space in order to drop-off or pick-up their child or grandchild without undue strain. The police have notified us that the ticket for such illegal parking is pretty high and sometimes they tow, as well. We want our school to be a place where we consider each other more than that, especially those who are in a more vulnerable position. Thank you for your cooperation and especially your consideration.
