Hormone Replacement Therapy FAQ

- What is Pellet Hormone Therapy?
  We are more aware of receiving hormone therapy via oral tabs, creams, injections, or patches. For many of us, those methods of treatments have not helped us as much as we hoped. Pellet therapy, which has been present for decades, is inserting a bio-identical hormone pellet in the buttocks area. Once the pellet is inserted, a steady, low dose of natural hormone flows directly into the blood stream and increases the amount of hormone whenever the body needs it, such as in exercise or stress. This method gives the body the ability to control the release of the hormones just as it did when the ovaries or testicles were working normally. The SottoPelle method insures an individualized dose for each patient based on their body's individual needs.

- What are Bio-identical Pellets made from?
  The pellets are compounded according to the highest industry standards, using the best quality botanical ingredients available. Derived from a natural plant source of soy, yam and other natural plants, they are specifically formulated to replicate human estradiol and testosterone hormones. Nothing synthetic, just pure and natural biologically-identical hormones.

- How long do the pellets typically last?
  3-5 months for women and 4-6 months for men.

- How do I receive my treatment?
  Each hormone pellet is the size of a grain of rice and inserted painlessly under the skin in the buttocks area. A mild, local anesthetic is used to numb the skin where the insertion will take place. The insertion takes less than five minutes. Repeat treatments involve a brief visit with one of our skilled providers 3-4 times per year for women and 2-3 times per year for men. That is it!

- What are the side effects or complications?
  Women: Side effects may include breast tenderness for 7-10 days after insertion, mild spotting or light breakthrough bleeding and slight weight gain from muscle growth or water retention. These side effects can be decreased or reversed by adjusting the subsequent estradiol doses. Facial hair growth, mild thinning of hair and acne are side effects that can occur but are reversible by adjusting the subsequent testosterone doses.
  Men: Transient breast tenderness if the estradiol level increases more than expected with increased levels of Testosterone. Transient aggressiveness and irritability can also occur. Symptoms can be eliminated by reducing the subsequent testosterone dose or by treating with medication.

- How much does Hormone Therapy Cost?

  One time Consult fee: $100

  Initial insertion: Average female fee is $240-$270.
  Average male fee is $480-$600.
  Actual cost depends on the number of pellets inserted.

  Booster Insertion:
  (5-7 weeks after the initial insertion)
  Average female fee is $185.
  Average male fee is $285.
  Actual cost depends on the number of pellets inserted.

  Female Maintenance Insertion Fee:
  (every 3-4 months)
  Average female insertion fee is $270.

  Male Maintenance Insertion Fee:
  (every 4-6 months)
  Male insertion fee ranges between $480 and $600.

  We accept the following forms of payment:
  MasterCard, Visa, Discover, American Express, Care Credit, Health Savings Account (HSA) debit card, Personal Checks and Cash.

- Do we accept insurance?
  We do not accept insurance. All payments are required in full at the time of your appointment. Upon request, our office can mail an insurance form to you that you may submit to your insurance.
  DUE TO CHANGES IN INSURANCE REGULATIONS, WE NO LONGER SUBMIT CLAIMS FOR OUR PATIENTS.

- What do I need to do to get started?
  The first step is to call for an appointment for an initial consult and treatment.
  The second step is getting your labs drawn. Your lab results are crucial in determining your hormone deficiencies and then calculating the perfect dose and plan for you.
  Please be aware that lab results can take at least 7-14 days for us to receive.

- Where are the labs drawn?
  Labs can be drawn at your Primary Care Physician's office, hospital or lab facility of your choice.

- Medicare Patient?
  Our providers are not Medicare or HMO providers and are considered "out of network" physicians. You will be responsible for payment of your labs if the labs are not ordered from your primary care physician or specialist.

  To prevent unnecessary costs, our staff will send you a letter specifying the labs required for your appointment. This letter needs to be taken to your physician's office so that the labs can be ordered by your physician. By having your physician order the labs, your insurance should cover the lab fees.

- No insurance or have an insurance plan with a large deductible?
  For patients who do not have insurance, have insurance plans with large deductibles or their insurance declines coverage of the labs, Allura has contracted reduced lab fees with LABCORP. The lab fees must first be prepaid at Allura before the labs will be drawn at a LABCORP facility. LABCORP fees are comparable to the "patient assisted programs" described below. Our staff will assist you through this process.

  Additionally, Longmont United Hospital and Banner Health have "patient assisted programs". "Patient Assisted programs" mean that you do not need a physician's order to have the labs drawn. You are able to order your own labs. These programs are available to patients who do not have insurance or have insurance plans with large deductibles. We can assist you by letting you know which labs need to be ordered for your appointment. The lab results are mailed directly to you. We do not receive a copy of the labs so please bring the results to your appointment.

- What time should I arrive for my initial consultation?
  Please arrive 30 minutes prior to your appointment. There is additional paperwork to complete prior to seeing the provider.

- What are the benefits of doing hormone replacement therapy?
  Hormone replacement therapy using pellets is beneficial to the human body and provides relief with:
  - enhancement of libido or increased sexual desire
  - increase in lean body mass and decrease in body fat
  - greater capacity for getting in shape
  - anti-inflammatory affects that reduce achiness of joints and muscle soreness
  - increased energy levels
  - consistency in mood: reduction in feelings of anger, nervousness and irritability
  - relief from anxiety and depression
  - increased vitality, focus, mental clarity and concentration
  - improved memory
  - increase sense of overall well being
  - protection from heart disease

- Questions?
  We are well staffed with a knowledgeable hormone team that can answer your questions or address any concerns that may arise while you are on pellet therapy. Please call our office at 970-223-0193 and ask to speak to our medical assistant, or email us at hormonereplacement@alluraclinic.com. Our medical assistant can answer most of your concerns but can contact one of our providers if needed.

You will find that pellet therapy is going to help you feel the best you have felt in a long time!

Male Testosterone Hormone Consent Form

General: Bio-identical hormone pellets are comprised of naturally derived concentrated hormones. These hormones are designed to be biologically identical to the hormones a man makes in his own body but to a lesser degree with age. Bio-identical hormones have the same effects on the body as one's own hormones.

Benefits and Risks:

Advantages of testosterone therapy for men include:

a) decreasing depression, decreasing anxiety and irritability, increasing energy and motivation, stabilizing moods, allowing one to cope better, improving one's self-image and self-worth, and enhancing one's stamina;

b) improvement in one's cognitive function so one is no longer operating "in a fog", improving short-term memory and allowing one to stay focused to complete a task;

c) physical effects such as decreasing total body fat, increasing lean body mass, increasing muscle mass, and increasing bone mass; and,

d) sexual benefits such as increasing libido, increasing early morning erections, possibly increasing firmness and duration of erections (Viagra or Cialis may be used concomitantly).

The above benefits do come with some risks. Very high dose use of synthetic testosterone has been associated with serious risks, complications and side effects including liver and heart problems as well as increases in cholesterol. However, low-dose, non-oral, natural testosterone that is used in pellet therapy has not been associated with these problems.

There is some risk, even with natural testosterone therapy, of enhancing an existing current prostate cancer to grow more rapidly. For this reason, a rectal exam and prostate specific antigen (PSA) blood test is to be completed before starting testosterone and every 12 months thereafter.
If there are any questions about possible cancer, an ultrasound of the prostate gland may be required as well as a referral to a qualified specialist. You may be asked to sign a PSA and/or rectal exam waiver if you fail to have these yearly.

While urinary symptoms typically improve with testosterone, there is the possibility that symptoms may worsen before improving.

Testosterone therapy may thicken one's blood by increasing the concentration of red blood cells. Symptoms may include headaches and dizziness. It may be associated with an elevation in blood pressure. This condition is called secondary polycythemia. Thus, a complete blood count (CBC) or hematocrit (HCT) should be done annually. This condition can be completely reversed by lowering subsequent testosterone doses and/or with therapeutic blood draws.

Testosterone replacement can suppress the development of sperm and the sperm count. This is especially concerning for young men. However, to date, in a majority of men, this appears to be a reversible process once testosterone is discontinued. Any men who are concerned about their future fertility should have a semen analysis prior to initiation of testosterone therapy. Currently, testosterone is not to be used as a form of male contraception.

There is the possibility that semen production will decrease while on hormone therapy. If this becomes a concern, the testosterone dose can be decreased or treatment can be discontinued. Once treatment is discontinued, semen production should return to normal.

Additionally, it is not unusual for testicular size to decrease while on testosterone therapy. This condition can be reversed with discontinuation of therapy.

Pellet Insertion:
Sterile surgical placement of Testosterone pellets for under the skin is performed by a designated medical professional (Physician or Physician Assistant). Insertion of pellets requires the use of local anesthesia consisting of 1% lidocaine and epinephrine. A brief burning sensation is common when the anesthesia is injected. Epinephrine can cause temporary shakiness, jitteriness, and heart racing.

Insertion Risks:
As with any form of implant, there is always the risk of infection, bruising, or bleeding at the insertion site. We have found that men who return to a vigorous exercise program 2-5 days after insertion have a higher risk of pellet extrusion or working themselves out of the skin. We have also found that infection at the insertion site and/or pellet extrusion can occur when the insertion site is continually rubbed or irritated by the pant waistline or belt. Instructions on the post-pellet insertion sheet must be followed to avoid such risks.

Labs and Appointments: I understand that lab work is required prior to my first appointment and if not available, then the appointment will be postponed. I also understand that labs are necessary for management of my hormone replacement, especially during the initial 6-8 months of therapy. Labs are required prior to the initial insertion, 4 weeks after the initial insertion, 2 weeks prior to each maintenance insertion. Once my hormone levels are stable, labs will be drawn on a yearly basis. Additional labs may be drawn when deemed necessary by the treating provider or when requested by you, the patient. I understand that I am responsible for any lab charges that may not be covered by my insurance company.

Charges: I understand that fees include the provider fee, insertion fee and testosterone pellet fee. The pellet fee varies and depends on the number of pellets I may receive. The precise amount is to be determined by the treating medical provider.

Payments: I understand payment is due in full at the time of services. I understand that the clinic does not accept insurance.

I have read and understand the above. I have been encouraged and have had the opportunity to ask any questions regarding pellet therapy. All of my questions have been answered to my satisfaction. I further acknowledge that the risks and benefits of this treatment have been explained to me and I have been informed that I may experience complications, including one or more of those listed above. I accept these risks and benefits and I consent to the insertion of hormone pellets under my skin. I understand that no guarantee or assurance has been made as to the results of the procedure and that it may not cure any condition that I may have.
