

Leadership Student Expectations

As Becks' Martial Arts (MA) Leadership students, you belong to a supportive and exceptional community and we are so proud to have you in our program. We believe that our Leadership students stand out in their Taekwondo classes, at school and in their communities.

Leadership students are recognizable at Becks' MA. Other juniors will see you training in class and recognize you by your shoulder stripes and Leadership uniforms. Your teachers, parents and peers know that you are Becks' MA Leadership students, which means that you also represent your dojang when you are not in class. This is a responsibility and an honor that we expect all of our Leadership students to take seriously. Becks' MA Leadership students should:

- Always assist and support other students in class, both at Taekwondo and at school.
- Exemplify the five tenets of Taekwondo: integrity, courtesy, perseverance, self-control and indomitable spirit.
- Have a positive and humble attitude in class and be an example for other students.
- Treat their peers, siblings, parents and teachers with respect and courtesy.
- Be honest, and choose right over wrong, even when the decision is difficult.
- Be a leader at Taekwondo, at school and at home.

Developing these qualities will help you excel both at Taekwondo and in your personal life. Competition and rank advancement are important aspects of your Taekwondo training, but we believe your spiritual development is even more important. Our goal as instructors is that you will embrace this concept and understand that your spiritual growth makes you a better martial artist.

On the next page is our student Leadership contract. As adults, you will sign many contracts in your life: when you buy a car, a home or are employed with a company. At Becks' MA, this contract is an agreement you are making with us to remain committed to your instructors, peers and Leadership program. We will take it seriously, which you should understand as you sign your Leadership contract. Review this agreement with your parents and sign and date it together.

Welcome to Becks' MA Leadership program! We are so happy to have you. You may always reach out to us with any questions or concerns.
