Drawing Music Supplies: drawing supplies, speaker, instrumental music, paper	Activity: The idea behind this activity is to listen closely to music, be thoughtful of how it makes you feel and then interpret those feelings into art. If the music is fast you may draw jagged, sharp lines in red; if it's slow, curving, wide shapes in blue. Try many different types of music and see what you create. Example Songs: Swan Lake by Tchaikovsky, Peter and the Wolf, by Prokofiev, Blue Bossanova by Bossanova
Scoop It Up Supplies: spoons, ping pong balls (or small circular objects that can fit in a spoon) and bowls.	Activity: Using nothing but a spoon in your mouth, transfer six ping pong balls from one bowl to the other in less than one minute. No hands! Hands are only allowed if you drop the ping pong ball, and then they can be used to place the ball back into the original bowl for another transfer attempt.
Fishing For Coins Website: https://www.education.com/game/identifying-coins-couch-fishing/	Description: The ability to identify coins comes in handy in this couch surfing game. You click on the couch coins to correctly answer the questions. This game teaches familiarity with nickels, pennies, dimes and quarters.
