

HeavyBall™ Warranty

Limited Warranty

(Strive Heavy Ball Limited Warranty for Commercial Use)

Conditions and Products covered

Each Strive Heavy Ball unit is a commercial piece of equipment designed for commercial supervision.

*Each unit comes with a full 90-day one-time part replacement warranty against defects.

*Additional coverage includes a full 1-year one-time part replacement warranty on all circuit boards and circuit board components.

*Additional coverage also, includes a full 3-year warranty on all steel components including all frameworks.

Items and Conditions not covered

*Products damaged by vandalism, improper care, accidents, excessive use, or improper maintenance.

*Shipping costs of returned warranty parts. "If a warranty part is sent out and the faulty part is requested to be sent back, a credit card will be charged upon sending new part and credited when faulty part has been received".

*Products exposed to moisture and excessive dust, dirt or the elements. Strive Heavy Ball should be operated in dry conditions and out of direct sun exposure.

*Electronics that are damaged due to power surges and other naturally generated power spikes. Use only UL listed surge protectors.

*Any Labor, including labor incurred in diagnosis of problems, the changing of parts or the shipping of parts.

Precautions

*It is the responsibility of the owner of the Strive Heavy Ball units to adequately inform users of precautions and proper usage of the unit.

*Do not allow people to participate if: They have had back, neck, leg, hip, arm, or heart problems or injuries.

*Each owner of a Strive Heavy Ball unit should have their own liability insurance coverage.

*Person participating must be in good health.

*It is recommended that people stretch out before participating in this or any physical activity.

*Operate Strive Heavy Ball on a clean level surface with plenty of traction, and allow only one participant at a time to play.

*Participant should not be under the influence of alcohol.

*Promotion of and participation in this activity is at your own risk. As an owner of a Strive Heavy Ball unit, you are responsible for safety of all participants.

*Keep unit dry and out of prolonged exposure to the sun and natural elements.

*Components of Strive Heavy Ball are heavy, always be sure to use adequate help and proper lifting techniques when lifting these components.