Mother Nature continues to harass the Southeast with more storms on the way which has helped fuel continued increases in OSB, plywood, and lumber. Order files on all species of lumber are extensive with numerous OSB mills currently off the market. The market is under bought with buyers issuing PO's for only quick needs hoping for price relief in the future. The good news is rain and snow in the Northwest has helped douse the fires so logging activity should pick up which will help the DF issue. Keep moving forward.....
