Markets saw another week of muted activity as the record high price levels on most lumber items struggled to hold. Specifically, coastal species continued to crack in price. GDF dimension lead the drop, with dry DF and HF not far behind. SPF also softened in price as buyers sense more softness to come. Panel activity was also muted, and OSB is still easing off in the SE region. Western markets continue to be tightly supplied on OSB, but there's a sense that's changing as purchases that have been rail delayed slowly begin to show up. Got your bracket done? Time for some hoops!
