Topics:

Chicken Soup for the Nurse's Soul or "I Didn't Even Stop to Go to the Bathroom!"

Most nurses didn't choose their careers because of the great hours, pay, and working conditions! LeAnn reminds them why they entered the profession, and why they stay. By sharing Chicken Soup stories, and those from her own 30 years of nursing, LeAnn encourages, uplifts and honors all nurses.

Encouraging them to balance their lives, she offers specific tools to care for themselves as attentively as they do others. With love and humor, LeAnn re-energizes them with hope, health, and healing - making them the heroes during these challenging times and inspiring them to continue their compassionate service.

LeAnn weaves in the fact that they are so lucky to work for a place that cares for their mind, body and spirit and she credits YOU for walking your talk by bringing her there. Staff leave uplifted, recommitted and recharged. While LeAnn is happy they love her and the message, what they really love is the organization that brought her there (which is also a proven retention tool).

Balancing Life in Your “War Zones” or Lessons from 100 Babbling Bawling Babies!

100 little babies lay three and four to a cardboard box, strapped in the belly of a gutted cargo jet. Saigon was falling to the communists – and LeAnn was caught up in the Vietnam Orphan Airlift. An ordinary person, she struggled through extraordinary circumstances, and found the courage to succeed. Believing we all have individual “war zones,” LeAnn shares photos and life-changing lessons learned from that adventure. She draws parallels between the “war zones” in Vietnam to the “war zones” in our professional and personal lives today...too much to do, too few resource, too many regulations! This poignant, yet humorous, presentation inspires audiences to balance their physical, mental, and spiritual lives; truly live their priorities; and make a difference in the world. In the end, LeAnn applauds them as the heroes!

Engaging Your Multigenerational Workforce

“Generational tensions” is ranked among the top major issues affecting U.S. workers. In this fun, entertaining, highly educational keynote or concurrent session, staff members will learn the history, traits and values of the four generations and identify ways to relate to, manage, and even appreciate the differences. This information is critical, not only to better understand coworkers, but to attract, interview and hire the right staff. Sharing this knowledge with all workers and caregivers decreases negativity, resentment and turnover in the workplace and increases cooperation, retention and productivity. This knowledge is also applicable and appreciated to better understand and care for those we serve...which is the common goal of all.

Chicken Soup for the Caregiver’s Soul or “How Long Can I Keep This Up?!”

While rewarding, care-giving requires tremendous emotional, physical and spiritual stamina, making burnout an everyday challenge. In Chicken Soup for the Caregiver’s Soul LeAnn offers remedies by encouraging caregivers to care for themselves as devotedly as they do for others. By sharing stories from Chicken Soup for the Caregiver’s Soul and her own life experiences she fills caregivers with hope, courage, and strength and honors them for the difference they make in the world.

You’ve Got To See It To Be It!

Scientific studies prove positive thinking and visualization promote mental, physical, and spiritual health. By sharing medical research and her Airlift experiences, LeAnn empowers audiences to improve their health by improving their attitudes. In this deep-dive interactive seminar LeAnn, a former childbirth educator, teaches how labor tools – breathing, relaxation, positive thinking and visualization, prayer and meditation, and management of time – apply as we “labor” through everyday life.
