HELLO SPRINGTIME!

The weather will soon be letting up and it will be time to get ready to experience new and exciting things in our classroom! For the month of March we will be reviewing Dr. Seuss. There are lots and lots of activities and learning to be done with this theme and we as a whole class will be diving in. There will be many projects done in addition to science activities and much more.

Parent-Teacher conferences will be held this month as well. Dates and times will be posted in our class soon.

Parents, please be sure to check your child's cubby for adequate extra clothes.

Teddy Bears Classroom

Happy March Parents,

This month we will continue to work on our letters such as T, U, V and W. We will also continue to work on our colors Yellow, black orange and Pink. How we have been teaching the children is by focusing on a color for a whole week and showing the children what the color looks like and using this color in everything we do. Parents if you would like to continue to work with you children as well at home on the color of the week please do so. We will also begin to add shapes as a weekly focus so the children can become familiar with each shape. This month we will work on Square, triangle, circle, and heart. Please continue to check cubbies for letter and homework as well as notes from teachers.

Your Mama Bears,

Miss Selina and Miss Jackie.

Bears Classroom

Happy Spring! For the month of March, we will be reviewing the color Red, Shapes and Spring. We will also be discussing our Spring Celebration. We will also continue to review our numbers 19 and 20. For art, we will use our imagination and create projects using spring materials and planting our own flowers to grow in class. We will be observing and documenting their growth on a weekly basis. At the end of the month, we will be having a spring celebratory party. In our media table, we will explore our senses by using soil and seeds with different materials from class. It will be a fun month!

Butterfly Classroom

Well the Butterflies are half way through the school year and before you know it, Spring will be here. This month we will continue to work on our alphabet, focusing on the letters G, H, I and J. This month's unit is entitled: Bees and Butterflies! We will hear stories about a caterpillar who was wrapped up in a chrysalis and went through a process of metamorphosis. Experience the life cycles of bees and butterflies this spring with your children. We will also talk about the changes in weather and spend time going over numbers. We will count daily up to 20 and introduce numerals. Parents if you log onto teaching strategies you will notice that you can only view new assessments for the spring season. Unfortunately you cannot go back and review winter or fall documentation. But please check often for new updates and documentations of your child. Also have you checked your child's cubby lately? There are many children whom are missing clothes and need to be restocked, so please be sure to check. Mrs. Claudia & Ms. Irene

Lions Classroom

Dear Parents,

For the month of March we will have fun and exciting new themes. We will be reviewing our Alphabet letters. We will work on 4 letters each week. We will also begin talking about Spring and how the weather begins to change. The children will become more aware of the many changes that take place during this season, as well as common spring activities. We will also talk about spring holidays, plants, animals, and different insects.

At Home: Assist your child in planting seeds. Your child can sort the seeds by color, and size. The seeds can be used for counting. Happy seed planting! Ms. Jessica

Dragons Classroom

Dear Parents,

This looks to be an eventful month. During March we will be studying the letters Rr, Ss, Tt, and Uu. We will finish working on numbers with the number 19, and 20. Our subjects for the month will be rockets, spring, transportation, and things that go up. As always, if you have any comments, questions or concerns I am always here for you. Thank you, Ms. Hope
